GARLANDS FROM ASHES, Sonja Grace, The Grace-Watson Press, Wanganui, 1996 Order from: Books for Women, PO Box 509, Palmerston North, New Zealand $29.95 + .80 postage Visa/MasterCard accepted. Written by survivors of clergy abuse for survivors, and people who wish to support them during their healing process. It is a very powerful book written with compassion and full of hope and encouragement for people in need of healing. In Part One eighteen women and men courageously share their stories of how they were sexually abused by clergy within the Christian religion in New Zealand. The incidents of abuse occurred some time between 1940-1992. Part two offers: suggestions for survivors in their healing process; factors to consider when assisting survivors to heal from clergy abuse; an outline of the problems encountered by survivors when reporting the abuse to the Churches, compared with what is in place in the Churches in New Zealand in 1996; a hypothetical explanation (based on New Zealand census figures) for the variation in the number of reported cases of clergy abuse between denominations as recorded in the book.

PEACE AND HEALING, Making homes abuse-free, Karen & Ron Flowers with Audray Johnson, Elaine & Willie Oliver, AdventSource 5040 Prescott Avenue, Lincoln, NE 68506. 1996 800/328-0525 This resource is for pastors, counsellors, family ministries personnel, departmental directors, administrators, teachers and leaders who want to respond to abuse and family violence in a professional and compassionate manner. Included are informative seminars with reproducible handouts, family-centered sermons, children's stories, practical resources and bulletin inserts. "The home is the single most violent place in society. In the United States one-fifth of all citizens are victimized physically/sexually by their mid-teens." The Adventist Review, May 18, 1995. The Seventh-day Adventist faith community is not immune to abuse and family violence. We are a global family, subject to global crises. In a 1994 Adventist Family Survey, completed by 8,000 randomly selected respondents from around the world, significant levels of physical, emotional and sexual abuse were reported. In fact, at the 1995 General Conference Session, a list of six major social issues was presented to delegates to rank in importance. Almost 30 percent chose domestic violence as the number one issue to address. Certainly an Adventist response is needed, for these "statistics" have faces--and families. These wounded adults and children deserve a compassionate response from the church.

PERILS OF POWER, Richard Exley $5.95 Ministerial Association of Seventh-day Adventist. This book deals with lust and sexual conduct. Written for ministers who struggle with these temptations, Exley looks at some of the scandals of the past and springboards from them to counsel his readers. Everyone needs to understand this topic of continuing relevance. Also in Spanish.

PERIOD, Gardner-Loulan, Lopez & Quackenbush, Moving Books. Parents education.

PLAYING GOD, Celeste Perrino Walker, 1994, Pacific Press Publishing Association, Boise, ID. A story of misguided zeal about spiritual abuse. Many Christians can relate to this story by either the actions or the results of what this religiously zealous couple did to their children and other church members. A RECOMMENDED BOOK FOR ALL CHRISTIANS TO READ!

PLEASE DON'T HURT ME, Dr. Grant Martin. This timely book rings sounds of hope for victims, abusers, and loved ones faced with the problem of violence in the home. Drawing on the vastness of God's redemptive love in the context of sound and practical counseling principles, he offers suggestions that may pave the way for emotional healing.

PORN GENERATION, Ben Shapiro, Human Events Book Service 2005, conservativebooks@HEBookService.com $19.95 Pornography: it's everywhere – at the video shop, in your newspaper, in you inbox. And although American society grows increasingly accepting of this state of affairs, porn is unmistakably dangerous: it presents a warped image of sex and self-satisfaction that ridicules the values of faith and family, mangling the most sacred ideals of matrimony. In Porn Generation, Ben Shapiro explains why. This book is about a generation of Americans lost in a maelstrom of moral relativism in a culture obsessed with cheap, degraded, casual sex. It's a powerful wake-up call outlining what we must do now to eradicate this scourge and reclaim the values that made America great.

PROTECTING THE GIFT, Keeping Children and Teenagers Safe, Gavin De Becker, 1999, The Dial Press, Random House, Inc. In this indispensable resource, de Becker provides keen insights into the behavior and strategies of predators. He offers practical new steps to enhance children's safety at every age level: specific questions parents can ask to screen effectively and evaluate baby-sitters, day-care services, schools, and doctors; a "Test of Twelve" safety skills children need before being alone in public; warning signs to help parents protect children from sexual abuse; and how to keep teenage girls and boys from unsafe situations with peers and adults. De Becker also shatters the myth that rules like Never Talk to Strangers will keep your children safe. By showing what danger really looks like – as opposed to what we might imagine it looks like – de Becker gives parents freedom from many common worries and unwarranted fears. De Becker is America's leading expert on predicting violent behavior. Advising such clients as the C.I.A. and the United States Supreme Court, this three-time presidential appointee has changed the way the United States government protects its highest officials. He is the co-chair of the Domestic Violence Council Advisory Board, and co-founder of Victory Over Violence, an organization that assists battered women and their children.

RITUAL ABUSE, what it is, why it happens, how to help, Margaret Smith, 1993, HarperCollins Publishers, 10 East 53rd St., New York, NY 10022. Thousands of adults have come forward to report incidents of ritual abuse recalled from childhood. This balanced account is one of the few books to explore this taboo subject in depth. She examines personal experiences from 52 adult survivors; cult abuse throughout history; the background of perpetrators, brainwashing, and Multiple Personality Disorder; and gives compassionate guidance on the recovery and healing process. It is a caring, comprehensive, and much-needed resource. The author is a survivor and researcher of ritual abuse. Her work is used by survivors, therapists, and organizations that address ritual abuse issues. Particularly helpful for spouses of recovered memory for understanding of what their companion is coping with.

SECRET LESSON, Weber & Bosworth, Onyx Book 1994. Shattering serial sex crimes that a community refused to believe. Richard Van Hook was the star teacher of the Caseyville, Illinois, Elementary School. Handsome, energetic, happily married with two children, he was not only a teacher but also a sports coach and school librarian, hugely popular with his sixth-grade students, their parents, his fellow teachers, and the administration. It seemed incredible when ten little girls, ages 10 through 13, told of his "secret lessons" to them. Even their graphic testimony of repeated, relentless sexual abuse failed to convince a grand jury of Van Hook's horrifying guilt. But the dedicated social worker who first heard the terrifying tales, the state police detective assigned to investigate, and the prosecutor to whom they desperately turned, pursued the search for the "perfect teacher's" little girl victims far into the past. And in the electrifying trial and riveting courtroom revelations that followed, the prosecution brought to light the darkest story of serial sex abuse ever told.

SHATTERED DREAMS, Fedders and Elliott. A personal story of spousal abuse.

SHE SAID NO, (but he crossed the line between passion and violence), Kay D. Rizzo, 1994, Pacific Press Publishing Association, Boise, Idaho, and Oshawa, Ontario, Canada. Date rape is a terrifying, violent physical assault that leaves emotional scars that may never heal. This book tells of a love story that turned into rage. The subject matter of this book may seem shocking to Christians, yet the characters involved in this sad tale are young people who attended a Christian college and who made a commitment to Christ, The no-nonsense message to both young men and young women regarding their choices and responsibility for their actions is worth the price of the book.

SHE SAID YES, the unlikely martyrdom of Cassie Bernall, Misty Bernall 1999, Word Publishing. Cassie Bernall, a 17-year-old junior at Columbine High School in Littleton, Colorado, was a typical teen having a typical day, when two rampaging classmates put a gun to her head and asked her if she believed in God. She said yes. With that simple word, the story of Cassie's courage in the face of death was catapulted into the consciousness of an entire nation. Now, her mother has told a far more remarkable story that tells us the rest of the story. A story of a transformed youth from the road to destruction and Satanism to a new birth Christian and the life changes her family did to help turn this youth around. Many youth and parents today will find something of themselves in this dramatic true story.

A SILENCE TO BE BROKEN, Earl D. Wilson, This book brings out of hiding a subject that is far too painful to leave hidden. The words here are of compassion and relief, and the author's manner is warmly positive. Dr. Wilson writes to us with a contagious confidence in God's redemptive power and it gives us hope.

THE SILENT CHILDREN: A PARENT'S GUIDE TO THE PREVENTION OF CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE, L. T. Sanford, Anchor Press/Doubleday, NY 1980.

SINS OF THE FATHER, Marianne Morris, Pacific Press Publishing Association, Boise, Idaho 1993. This riveting book takes the reader behind the white-picket-fence facade of an all-American family that had a stellar reputation for caring for children at church, while harbouring the ugly secret of child molestation at home. This is a story of treachery, deceit, cover-ups, and shameful silence. Silence by a church and family that allowed two generations of children to be assaulted by a man whose terrible crimes went unpunished for nearly thirty-five years and then received a "slap on the wrist" punishment. A disturbing portrayal of our times and an urgent appeal to Christians to protect the defenseless and call sin by its name.

THE SOCIOPATH NEXT DOOR, Martha Stout, Ph.D. Broadway Books, NY. 2005. "A fascinating, important book about what makes good people good and bad people bad, and how good people can protect themselves from those others." "We are accustomed to think of sociopaths as violent criminals, but in this book, Harvard psychologist Martha Stout reveals that a shocking 4 percent of ordinary people (one in 25) have an often undetected mental disorder, the chief symptom of which is that that person possesses no conscience, no ability to feel shame, guilt or remorse. One of their chief characteristics is a kind of glow or charisma that makes sociopaths more charming or interesting than the other people around them. They're more spontaneous, more intense, more complex, or even sexier than everyone else, making them tricky to identify and leaving us easily seduced. They cannot love. They learn early on to show sham emotion, but underneath they are indifferent to other's suffering. They live to dominate and thrill to win. When we suddenly recognize that someone we know, someone we worked for, or were involved with, or voted for – is a sociopath what do we do with that knowledge? Dr. Stout teaches us to question authority, suspect flattery, and beware of pity play and above all when a sociopath is beckoning, do not join the game."

THE TEMPTING OF AUDRA GREY, Tricia Padgett, Pacific Press Association, Boise, Idaho, Oshawa, Ontario, Canada. A Christian woman's struggle between her empty marriage and the promise of new love.

TESTIMONIES ON SEXUAL BEHAVIOR, ADULTERY, AND DIVORCE, a compilation from the writings of Ellen G. White. The Ellen G. White Estate 12501 Old Columbia Pike, Silver Spring, MD 20904. Prepared especially for the benefit of church administrators and other ministers who must deal with questionable or immoral conduct. This book is not designed to serve as a manual of rules. No two situations are exactly alike. Each will require careful study; and although the differences may be minor, each situation will require its own solution. It is the publishers hope and prayer that in the hands of an ever learning and truly caring church, the material in this compilation will contribute to the elevation of moral standards in the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and at the same time provide comfort, encouragement, and hope for those whose complex moral problems seem beyond human solution.
